Toastmasters International's Chief Executive Officer is Keynote Speaker for the District 26 Spring Conference

Denver, Colorado, April 22, 2018 — District 26 Toastmasters is pleased to announce Daniel Rex, Toastmasters International's Chief Executive Officer, as the keynote speaker for the District 26 Spring Conference 2018.

Mr. Rex knows Toastmasters better than most; he attended his first club meeting in 1989 and has been a leader in the World Headquarters team for over 25 years – giving him a unique perspective and an extensive depth of knowledge. Since 2008, when he took on his current responsibilities, he has provided a steady hand while the organization has gone through massive transformation and has emerged as a stronger, more cohesive, global organization. At the District 26 Spring Conference Mr. Rex will talk about “Why We Do What We Do” and will share priorities and drivers as they relate to Toastmasters International members, clubs and districts.

This Conference will be a special one, with the celebration of three major events that have direct impact on the Toastmasters in District 26:

- The relocation of the Toastmasters World Headquarters to Denver from California;
- The launch of the new educational program “Pathways”;
- 70th anniversary of District 26, which was born on September 19, 1948.

The goal of the conference is to create an unforgettable experience for all attendees by delivering Educational Breakout Sessions that are inspirational. In addition, each attendee will witness the finals of the International Speech and Table Topics Contests. This Toastmasters' year, the District 26 conference theme is “Raising the Bar by Leading with Excellence.”
